Sugar-Using Industry Employs More Than 600,000 Americans

Census Data Show Industry Supports American Jobs Across a Variety of Food Manufacturing Sectors

Recently released Census data show that the sugar-using industry supports more than 600,000 American jobs - jobs put at risk by the U.S. sugar program. These jobs are supported by a variety of types of food manufacturing - from bread and bakery product manufacturing to snack food manufacturing.

Sugar-using industry jobs are at risk now. Congress cannot wait for another farm bill to reform the U.S. sugar program.

Only Congress can fix the U.S. sugar program.

The Coalition for Sugar Reform is an alliance of consumers, food and beverage manufacturers, trade advocates, environmental groups, taxpayer watchdog organizations, responsible government advocates, think tanks and other interests. Our objective is to reform the federal government's intrusive, inefficient, restrictive and outdated sugar program - a decades-old subsidy that has repeatedly failed to provide adequate supplies of sugar to the U.S. market.
