Get the Facts: What You Should Know About U.S. Sugar Policy

Fact 1:

In the 2008 farm bill, changes were made to the U.S. sugar program that caused U.S. sugar prices to soar well above the already high world price between 2009-2012, and the same disastrous program was continued in the 2014 farm bill.

Fact 2:

The Depression-era U.S. sugar program was the only commodity program not reformed in the 2014 farm bill.

Fact 3:

The U.S. sugar program puts at unnecessary risk 600,000 American manufacturing jobs across the country.

These are just three of the top 10 facts you should know about America's failed sugar policy. Check out the full list here.

The U.S.-Mexico sugar trade case has only made matters worse for U.S. sugar policy and American consumers and manufacturers by further restricting sugar supplies.

Only Congress can fix the U.S. sugar program.

The Coalition for Sugar Reform is an alliance of consumers, food and beverage manufacturers, trade advocates, environmental groups, taxpayer watchdog organizations, responsible government advocates, think tanks and other interests. Our objective is to reform the federal government's intrusive, inefficient, restrictive and outdated sugar program - a decades-old subsidy that has repeatedly failed to provide adequate supplies of sugar to the U.S. market.
