Leading Consumer, Labor & Environmental Groups Agree: It's Time to Reform the U.S. Sugar Program

Leading consumer, labor and environmental groups agree that Congress should reform the U.S. sugar program. With the current program costing U.S. consumers $14 billion over the past four years and threatening 600,000 American jobs in sugar-using industries, the following groups are calling on Congress to take action and enact reforms.

- Consumer Federation of America (learn more)
- Everglades Trust (learn more)
- National Consumers League (learn more)
- National Resources Defense Council (learn more)
- National Wildlife Federation (learn more)
- Ohio Conference of Teamsters (learn more)

The Coalition for Sugar Reform is an alliance of consumers, food and beverage manufacturers, trade advocates, environmental groups, taxpayer watchdog organizations, responsible government advocates, think tanks and other interests. Our objective is to reform the federal government's intrusive, inefficient, restrictive and outdated sugar program – a decades-old subsidy that has repeatedly failed to provide adequate supplies of sugar to the U.S. market.
